

European Senior Distressed Investment Analyst - 15/08/2025

European Stressed & Distressed Investment Analyst, London – Director

Our client is an established distressed and special situations fund looking to add senior investment talent to continue their upwards trajectory in Europe. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to become a key member of an investment team strong track-record and demonstrate their expertise in investing across the mid-market in distressed and special situations credit opportunities, focusing on public and private markets.

The successful candidate will play an integral role throughout the entire investment process, from origination and analysis to structuring and execution, across public and private markets. The ideal candidate will have a deep understanding of credit investing and the ability to manage investments across the capital structure.

They are seeking a candidate at the VP level or above with proven experience in stressed, distressed and special situations investing.

Key Responsibilities:

- Conduct in-depth fundamental analysis across high yield, stressed, distressed, and special situations credit to drive investment decisions
- Collaborate with analysts and the wider team, ensuring strong communication and coordination across all stages of the investment process
- Generate and present investment ideas internally and externally to the investment committee.
- Utilise advanced financial analysis skills to structure and execute investments.
- Originate and source new investment opportunities by building and maintaining relationships with market participants.

This role offers the chance to join a successful team in a dynamic market, with excellent opportunities for career development and exposure to a broad range of high-profile investment opportunities within private markets.
